

EXECUTION POLICY

This Execution Policy is applicable to voice broker services provided to you by RP Martin Stockholm AB ("Broker"). This Execution Policy should be read in conjunction with the Broker's standard terms of business. This Execution Policy and the Broker's terms & conditions are liable to be amended from time to time.

Introduction

When providing a brokerage service to you in relation to financial instruments (as set out in Annex 1), the Broker will take reasonable steps to achieve the best overall trading result for you. This means that the Broker will aim to provide "best execution" subject to and taking into account the nature of your orders, the prices available to the Broker in the market, the nature of the market in question and a reasonable assessment of the sometimes overlapping and conflicting execution factors (which are detailed below).

The Broker's intention is, so far as possible, to exercise consistent standards and operate the same processes across all markets, clients and financial instruments in which the Broker operates. The Broker also intends to provide you and other market participants with access to (where possible) tradable prices on a non-discriminatory basis. However, the diversity in those markets and instruments, what the Broker knows of your own trading intentions, and the kind of orders that you may place, mean that various factors will have to be taken into account in relation to any particular transaction.

Exemptions from the provision of Best Execution

Without intending to contradict the intentions expressed above, the Broker does not undertake to provide "best execution" if you fall within any of the following exemptions:

Eligible Counterparties

- If you are classified as an Eligible Counterparty you will not be entitled to best execution under the UK Financial Services Authority ("FSA"), or equivalent EU rules. This is in line with Article 24 of MiFID which provides that the best execution obligation under Article 21 will not apply.

Market Practices

- In the wholesale bond markets in which the Broker operates (and as recognised by the European Commission) it is normal market practice for buyers and sellers to "shop around" by approaching several brokers/dealers for a quote. In these circumstances there is no expectation between the parties that the broker/dealer chosen will owe best execution. As a sophisticated participant in the wholesale markets, unless you advise us to the contrary we will assume that this is your normal trading behaviour.

Transactions arranged in a name passing capacity

- Brokers acting in a name passing capacity are receivers and transmitters of orders but in carrying out their activities they do not receive and transmit orders for execution. Therefore, the requirement to provide best execution will not apply.

Client Instructions

- Where you provide us with a specific instruction in relation to your entire order, or any particular aspect of your order, including an instruction for your trade to be executed on a particular venue, the Broker will execute the order in accordance with your instructions. However, please note that in following your instructions, the Broker will be deemed to have taken all reasonable steps to provide the best possible result for you in respect of the order, or aspect of the order, covered by your specific instructions,

Note that when you give an offer, take a bid or place an order on a multilateral trading facility (MTF), the best execution provisions of MiFID will not apply to the operator of the MTF and these obligations will fall on the user of the system. Your order will be classified as a specific instruction and hence the best execution provisions of MiFID will not apply.

Clients

Except in exceptional circumstances, the Broker will only deal with Eligible Counterparties and Professional Clients as defined in MiFID and by the Swedish FSA. Because the Broker always intends to handle orders and expressions of interest in an equitable and consistent manner, once a client is classified as an Eligible Counterparty for the purposes of a particular instrument that client may not then elect to be re-classified for the purposes of one transaction of a type it customarily undertakes. Exceptional circumstances may be taken into account at the time, with the consent of the Broker (the Broker may decline to provide a service should a reclassification be requested).

Execution Venues

This Execution Policy sets out the venues on which the Broker may transact your order. It has identified those venues on which the Broker will most regularly seek to execute your orders and which the Broker believes offer the best prospects for achieving the best possible results for you, taking into account the execution factors detailed below.

The Broker is able to transact trades on your behalf on any of the following execution venues:

- The Broker's customer base in the over the counter (OTC) markets;
- Any Multilateral Trading Facility (MTF) operated by the Broker; and
- Various Exchanges to which the Broker has access to

When selecting the venue on which to transact trades the Broker will take reasonable measures to ensure that the selected venue obtains the best possible trading result for its clients, subject to the following factors:

- In the OTC markets in which the Broker operates it can only give clients visibility to prices that have been communicated to the Broker by other clients that operate in the same market, accordingly any "best outcome" will solely be within these limits;
- The Broker will provide details of all tradable bids and offers (subject to the other matters referred to below);
- Time availability of prices – in many markets there are lulls and spikes in trading as negotiations align trading interests at different times and different parts of the curve, accordingly the "last traded" price may not always be available or act as a reliable indicator of current price;
- The Broker cannot allow clients to trade in a market unless it is reasonably satisfied that the client (via an agent or otherwise) is operationally capable of settling the relevant trade;
- The Broker cannot control either the cost of credit (credit premium) or credit acceptance between its clients;
- Rates of brokerage will vary between clients, based on agreements and levels of activity.

Execution Factors

In the absence of express instructions from you, the Broker will exercise its own discretion in determining the factors that the Broker needs to take into account for the purpose of providing you with the best possible result.

These execution factors in the wholesale markets in which the Broker operate will include, but are not restricted to, the:

- Characteristics of the client;
- Size, nature and characteristic of the order;
- Likelihood and speed of execution;
- Price and costs of execution; and
- Exchange settled block trades, or positions larger than standard market size, may be crossed at a particular stage in the trading day, or kept anonymous to the majority of market participants; unless otherwise directed, the Broker will only show the price and size to parties that it believes may have an interest in executing or crossing such a position.

Monitoring and review

The Broker will monitor the effectiveness of its order execution arrangements and order execution policy in order to identify and, where appropriate, incorporate any amendments to procedures. The Broker will assess, on a regular basis, whether the execution venues included in the order execution policy provide for the best possible result for its clients or whether the Broker needs to make changes to its execution arrangements. The Broker will review its order execution arrangements and order execution policy at least annually or whenever a material change occurs that affects its ability to continue to obtain the best possible result for the execution of client orders on a consistent basis using the venues included in its order execution policy. The Broker will notify you of any material changes to its order execution arrangements or order execution policy as described above by posting the information on the Broker's website.

Fiduciary Relationship

Our commitment to provide you with "best execution" does not mean that we owe you any fiduciary responsibilities over and above the specific regulatory obligations placed upon us or as may be otherwise contracted between us. You remain responsible for your own investment decisions and the Broker will not be responsible for any market trading loss you suffer as a result of those decisions.
